Exceptionally fast and secure shipments for fashion shows

Time-Critical powered by Quick

Ship in style with a premium logistics service that supports your brand.

Red carpet treatment

When fashion week opens, the whole industry stops to watch. Your designs need to be there on time, ready for final fitting with the stylists and models. Deliver quickly with our bespoke, round-the-clock logistics service - including out-of-hours collection and 24/7/365 customer care. Simply tell us when it needs to arrive, and we'll make it happen at any time of the day - or night.

Plan for success

A storm at an airport can risk months' worth of hard work. That's why our team of specialists have a contingency plan for every situation. Take advantage of our global solution to navigate efficiently through local regulatory requirements for fast and reliable deliveries. Nothing will stop your shipment from reaching its destination on time.

Always in view

Being seen isn't just important on the catwalk. With Time-Critical powered by Quick, you have real-time visibility of your shipment throughout the entire journey. For complete peace of mind, you will be proactively informed about every milestone.

A tailor-made service

Our teams can customise a solution that's as unique as your designs. Whatever you need, we can cater to your exact requirements.

When every moment counts, you can count on us.
